I saw on some TV show that the best way to get out a red wine stain is to pour white wine on it. Then you only have to deal with getting out the white wine but that doesn't really stain anyway. I didn't think it would work but it did.

As a professional, I think it's important to know about that stuff. That's why I got a subscription to Martha Stewart's magazine. I also heard Martha Stewart's a dyke and I like to support my community.

I love my job. I am so lucky. I don't know what I would do without my boss, Maddy. Maddy is the best boss in the world. She's not gay but she's cool. Not like I'd want to do her or anything. Usually I hate working for heteros, especially men. They remind me of my ex-boyfriend and I want to kill them. Not kill them, but you know what I mean. Maddy and I both totally love animals. I know she wants to open an animal sanctuary someday and I hope I get to work there. She helps a lot of different rescue groups but she says she wants to do more than just write a check. We used to go to the Petland adoption fair every Sunday so we could buy toys and food for the cats there. That was before she pretty much stopped going out. We still help animals. Maddy writes the checks and then I take care of the animals.

I still clean for some other people now but I hope Maddy will hire me full time. I think it would be cool to be a personal assistant. In rehab they told us to set goals. My goal is to be Maddy's personal assistant. There is a class for people who want to be personal assistants at the Learning Annex. I should probably take it. It's taught by a celebrity's actual personal assistant. How cool is that?

I feel like it's my job to make sure Maddy doesn't stress. I don't want her to worry about anything. I also don't want her to have to get out of bed unless it's absolutely necessary. Like to get her hair done or go to the doctor. I think a good personal assistant takes care of everything before the boss even asks. A good personal assistant is kind of psychic. People have told me I'm psychic before.

CUT TO:

Like you never know when things will come in handy. When my ex-boyfriend used to go on tour he wouldn't wash his hair so when he came back it was totally full of snarls. It took me hours to get the snarls out but I did it.

Getting the milk dud out of Maddy's hair was nothing. I iced it and I didn't even have to cut anything. Skills like that are really important because you want your boss to need you.
